Student Action Is Project

Lutheran Student Action will receive support from Wartburg students next week when the Student Senate first semester project drive opens. This was decided Thursday by student body vote after three possible projects were suggested.

Extending from Monday through Saturday, the drive has as a goal a minimum of $2 from each student enrolled at Wartburg. Loren Buelow, junior and chairman of the Student Senate project committee, emphasized that the donations are to be voluntary and that the goal was set in view of the fine response last year.

To Calf Meetings.

Class presidents will call meetings next week to receive donations and to appoint solicitors to see those not attending the meetings.,

Projects suggested at the Thursday convocation before the election included, in addition to the one chosen, support of displaced European children and aid for European seminary students studying in the United States. Presenting the projects were the other members of the committee, Margaret Fritschel, senior, and Edith Baehr and Herman Diers, juniors.

Provide Scholarships.

Phase of Lutheran World Action to be supported by Wartburg students is the one providing scholarships for subsidizing Lutheran students all over the world. Lutheran Student Action was established by Lutheran students in the United States to help Lutheran students abroad. It is one of the few agencies in America participating in this work.

Purpose of the scholarships is to provide livable conditions for European students now in school.

Regents Reject Gym Bids Continue Athletic Field

Rejecting of all first bids for construction of the new gymnasium and deciding to go ahead with the construction of the new athletic field, baseball diamond and tennis courts were among the decisions reached at a meeting of Wartburg's Board of Regents Thursday at the college.

To restudy the problems of procedure concerning immediate gymnasium construction will be the main purpose of the building committee's next meeting Nov. 19.

Decision to purchase necessary equipment for the present gymnasium which can be used in the new gymnasium was reached. The board also decided to have the telephone wires crossing the newly landscaped area south of Luther hall placed underground.

Lowest Bid $649,803.

Lowest bid for construction of the new gymnasium was for $649,803. In all, only two general bids were considered, both being rejected because the board considered the cost of construction exorbitant.

"The building committee will meet next week to make further plans for the immediate construction of the gymnasium and athletic field directly north of the trailer camp up to Fifth avenue," said President C. H. Becker yesterday.

To Build New Diamonds.

New baseball diamonds will be constructed directly across the street from the home of Dr. Edwin Liemohn. New tennis courts, also to be built as soon as possible, will be east of the baseball diamonds.

Wrestling equipment for immediate use will be purchased for the athletic department, as the result of the board's decision. When the new gymnasium is completed, this equipment will be transferred to it.

Landscaping To Continue.

Landscaping of the area between Luther hall and Bremer avenue will continue by placing the telephone wires beneath the ground. No decision has been reached as to what will be done with the power lines in this area because of the problems and cost involved in installing high tension wire underground.

This newly landscaped area will be seeded within the next few weeks, according to President Becker. Sidewalks will be constructed next spring.

Landscaping plans were drawn by Morell and Nichols of Minneapolis, and the landscaping itself is being handled by Kuehn Nursery, Cedar Falls.

Name Den Manager.

Miss Viola Luhring of Waverly was engaged by the Board of Regents at the Thursday meeting as new manager of the Den and student social center, She will assume her duties about Dec. 1.

Formerly manager of the Uptown cafe in Waverly, Miss Luhring is presently employed as bookkeeper for the Independent and Democrat.

Mrs. Henry Grube, who has been managing the Den in addition to the cafeteria, will now be able to give full time to her cafeteria duties.

Ohio Pastor Speaks On Negroes' Role In Lutheran Church

Pastor A. S. Tarrant, Negro Lutheran minister from Dayton, Ohio, speaking on "The Negroes' Role in the Lutheran Church," pointed out the chief needs of his race, education for intelligent leadership and the sympathetic attitude of its fellow citizens, in his talk in convocation Tuesday.

"The Negro is capable of great things," said the Rev. Mr. Tarrant as he listed the achievements of Booker T. Washington, George Washington Carver, Roland Hayes and Marian Anderson and described the work of Pastor M. N. Carter in his Lutheran (ALC) charge in Chicago.

The Rev. Mr. Tarrant is a graduate of Capital university with 17 years' service in the Montgomery, Ala., field of Negro missions, where he directed five missions and four parochial schools.

The question of 'whether the Negro takes to the Lutheran church was touched upon. The speaker stated that the American Lutheran church now has 15 mission stations and six all-Negro congregations. It was brought out that more workers are needed in this plenteous harvest.

"You students here at Wartburg college are very fortunate. You have a chance, not only to learn the 3-R's, but you can also learn about Jesus Christ here., The world, therefore, expects much from you."

Special music was furnished by Lois Snyder, freshman pianist, and a trumpet trio, which included Nina Miller, sophomore, Herbert Bredow and Curtis Wuest, freshmen.

Since it was Armistice day, the colors were presented by the Waverly American Legion post with a representation of veterans in the guard of honor.

Miss Snyder Speaks

Miss Hazel Snyder, home economics instructor at Wartburg, will speak to the Home Ec club when it meets next Wednesday, Nov. 19, in the home ec rooms.

Fortress Plans Pix

Pictures of campus organizations will be taken Sunday, Nov. 23, for inclusion in this year's Fortress, as announced by the editors. Students are urged to watch the bulletin boards for announcements of the schedule.

De Young, De Snow

Enjoying Iowa's first snowfall this week was Barbara De Young, red-haired freshman parish worker from Los Angeles, Calif. Barbara reports that this snow is the first she has ever seen.

Grelling Compares Life Among Youths

Life among Swiss youths was compared with that of the young people of America Thursday evening when Claude Grelling, freshman from Switzerland, spoke before members of the German club at a meeting in the chapel of Luther hall.

"College - supported sports teams do not exist in Europe," said Grelling. Cities, towns and communities usually organize and support these teams which play conference games just as do American teams.

Main sports in Switzerland are soccer, skiing and swimming, according to Grelling. Motion pictures, which are mostly American, supply the main weekday entertainment.

"First I read the German subtitles; then the French, and when I learned English, I just listened," commented Grelling in referring to the movies seen in Switzerland.

Concerts and operas also supply entertainment, the speaker remarked. Shakespeare is very popular translated into German, French and Italian, he added.

Schick Will Lead

The Rev. Edwin Schick, college chaplain, is to lead the question box discussion this Sunday evening at the meeting of the Lutheran Student association in the dining hall.

Since supper is being served in the dining hall to members of the Iowa Symphony orchestra, the LSA meeting will begin immediately after the conclusion of the meal. According to those in charge of the meeting, recreation is being planned for a truly enjoyable evening.

Musicians Thank

Band members and the music faculty, as well as the student body and the college, are indeed grateful to the WARTBURG ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, which last spring adopted the project of furnishing uniforms for the Wartburg band.

They also appreciate the efforts of Mr. Mercer and his staff at the local Penney store for their enthusiastic cooperation, which made it possible to make the initial uniformed band appearance at Homecoming.

Edwin Liemohn, head of music department
Edfield Odegard, instructor of music
Alton Schwandt, president of band

Walker, Rev. Grunke At Council Meeting

John Walker, sophomore from Des Moines and newly elected treasurer for the Iowa region of the Lutheran Student association, and the Rev. Marvin Grunke, acting dean of students, are attending an LSA executive council meeting at the Iowa State Teachers college in Cedar Falls this afternoon.

This group meeting includes regional officers and their personal advisers. Dean Grunke is serving as adviser to Walker in matters concerning the treasury of the Iowa region of the LSA.

Main purposes of the meeting are to acquaint the executive officers with one another, to orient each officer with the particular duties of his office and also to discuss LSA techniques.

During the techniques period, it is expected that discussion will take place concerning the plan which makes each officer responsible for helping to establish LSA groups in colleges in his immediate area.

Mooney Will Speak At Scientist Meet

William Mooney, Waverly attorney, will be the main speaker at a meeting of the science club Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. in convocation hall, it was reported this week by A. W. Swensen, professor of chemistry.

"The Application of Science in the Federal Bureau of Investigation" will be the topic of the talk by Mr. Mooney, who was with the FBI before coming to Waverly.

Also on the program will be five-minute talks by five Wartburg students. Included in this group are June Carroll, junior, who will speak on the question "Can Medicine Make You Smarter?"; Robert Engelbrecht, senior, "Radiotracer Chemistry"; Ivan Kressin, sophomore, "Ten Year Plan for Science;" Delbert Meyer, junior, "Bikini—One Year Later," and Robert Stumme, sophomore, "The War's Best Secrets."

Please Notice

Faculty and students—Reserve Friday, Nov. 21 for a thrill-packed evening of fun. Get your complimentary tickets early from the seniors.

Watch the bulletin boards.

Art Exhibit Dec. 7

Exhibition of paintings and sculpture work by Wartburg students will be held in Old Main on Sunday, Dec. 7, from 1 to 6 p.m.

About thirty pieces will be on display, including some works by former art students and others by those studying art this semester, as reported by Miss Helen Wright, art instructor. The subjects of these paintings will be decorative flower designs, abstract designs and landscapes.

"Anyone who so desires may purchase these paintings at reasonable prices, at the time of the exhibition," stated Miss Wright.

Funds obtained in this manner will help defray expenses of an art appreciation trip for Wartburg art students.

Hieber At Waterloo

Dr. Robert Hieber, instructor of music, is now serving as organist at the First Methodist church in Waterloo.

Permanency Added To Camera Club

Permanency was added to the Camera club Monday evening when it completed its organization at a meeting in room 22 of Luther hall.

President of the new club is Gerald Herbener, junior, who served as temporary chairman during the organizational stages.

Elected to serve with Herbener at the Monday meeting were Bert Lahr, freshman, vice-president; Leslie Huebner, senior, secretary-treasurer, and James Huebner, freshman, historian. Dr. Alfred E. Haefner, professor of Greek, is adviser to the group.

Proceeding under a constitution approved at a previous meeting, the club selected the second Monday of every month at 7:30 p.m. as the meeting date. Tentative dues were set at 50 cents a semester.

Featured at the Monday meeting was a slide lecture by James Huebner, who demonstrated the art of printing pictures.

Possibilities for holding exhibitions with the art department and plans for the new darkroom were also discussed by the group.

Iowa Symphony Orchestra Coming Under Artist Series Sponsorship

Main item on the Wartburg program for tomorrow is the University of Iowa symphony orchestra which will appear on the stage of the Waverly high school auditorium at 3:30 p.m. under the auspices of the Wartburg College Artists committee.

Directed by Dr. Philip Greeley Clapp, head of the university school of music, the orchestra has gained recognition throughout the nation through its series of annual concerts. Its membership consists of university faculty members and students, as well as some Iowa City amateur musicians.

Dr. Clapp, a well-known composer, conductor and pianist, has been head of the university school of music since 1919. He has studied under such artists as Jacques Hoffman and John P. Marshall. Harvard university provided the scene for all Dr. Clapp's collegiate work. He received his A.B., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from that institution.

After teaching at Harvard for a year after his graduation, Dr. Clapp instructed in various schools, including Dartmouth college and Gloucester School of Music. He served as guest conductor for the Cincinnati symphony orchestra on its 1913 spring concert tour.

Included in the program to be presented by the orchestra when it appears in Waverly will be Handel's "Suite from the Water Music," Wagner's "Siegfried Idyll" and Brahms' "Symphony No. 3 in F Major" and "Academic Overture."

Just Suppose --- Then Give

Suppose there were no tomorrow! Think about that for just a minute—no tomorrow for you or your kid sister at home. Did you ever think that we who had so many yesterdays may have no tomorrows?

It has happened, you know. Think about some of those fellows who sat in our high school classes. They will have no more tomorrows. They died before they ever had a try at living in order that we at home might have our chance.

Millions were asked to give up more than a double feature at the Orpheum or a spiffy new pair of pumps for next week's formal. A soda was a pretty insignificant sacrifice when one thought of things like . . .

The kids in China who lived on a few ounces of rice a day. They never had an ice cream soda . . .

The Polish boys and girls who would have been in school just as we are if there were any schools left . . .

The French youths who never had a hamburger when they were out on a date — or any time, for that matter. They were old — very old — older than you and I will ever be.

There were millions of them . . . in Norway . . . Holland . . . Denmark . . . Belgium. They would have stared in amazement had they been here:

A jalopy painted bright yellow with "the tin you love to touch" painted in large green letters on the back . . .

A high school senior, uncomfortable in his first tuxedo, nervously calling for his prom date.

Millions of things we took for granted.

There was a feeling of permanency in our tight little world. We went to school with the gang then, and we'll go today and tomorrow. And there is still a feeling of permanency in us.

The guns are silenced, and a hope for lasting peace is in our hearts. Yet, there are sacrifices we should make when we think about the Chinese kids who are still without more than a few ounces of rice, the French boys and girls who are growing older and older and the millions in the other nations still amazed at the way we live.

We were asked to ration ourselves during the trying period of the war in order to conserve material. We were asked to invest in bonds and stamps in order that tomorrow —that is, today—might be ours.

Now again today we are asked to ration ourselves that we might feed and clothe the needy. We are asked to contribute money for the welfare of those starving people of the world. We are asked for these things that TOMORROW might be ours.

A man who is starving, or one who sees his family starving . . . a man who is freezing because of a lack of fuel and clothing, or one who sees his loved ones freezing . . . he will use every means at his disposal to obtain these necessities. That may mean another war, one of chaos never before seen.

Whether or not tomorrow will be ours is in our hands today. That is why some of Wartburg's sympathetic students have organized the March of Dimes. We are asked to give today that we might receive the benefits of peace tomorrow.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR EDITOR:

We're in a jam!

Perhaps you've heard about this food crisis in Europe. All sorts of important people are trying to do lots of different things about it. We know that we aren't important, but we want to help and can't. We need help. We need help from every one of you.

Twice a week, at convocations on Tuesdays and Thursdays, you are given a chance to help out on the March of Dimes. So far this year we have lagged in our giving. We used to send boxes every week. We could when we averaged $30 a week in donations, but now our average is down to hardly $12 a week. You people—all of you—can do the helping, not just a few large donors, much as we appreciate them.

We need money to send boxes of food regularly and to send clothing for distribution by Dr. Bodensteck. And we need your help in packing and shipping, too. Boxes, twine and postage have to be paid for on every package we send. We have to buy these items, too; so we need your help regularly. Give up those extra cokes and give the March of Dimes the extra dimes every time you attend convo.

We are warm and well fed. Let us remember "the least of these," our brethren in need.

March of Dimes Committee.

Presenting Your Faculty

Prof In 27th Year

Now serving in his 27th year as a chemistry teacher on the Wartburg faculty and in his 10th year as chairman of the Wartburg Artist Series committee is Prof. A. W. Swensen.

Basing his efforts on the belief that "a student who goes to Wartburg should have the same opportunity as those going to state institutions," Prof. Swensen has built for Wartburg an Artist series of national reputation. Through these numbers, Wartburg has attracted bigger crowds than the city had ever before seen. At the last lyceum number was a packed house of about twelve hundred people.

Besides these activities, the professor is active in church affairs. He has served as superintendent of the Sunday school in St. Paul's Lutheran church for many years.

Jackson, Minn., claims Prof. Swensen as a native son. He went to high school and college in Decorah. There he participated in the internationally famous band, playing a trombone.

In 1931, the chemistry head received his master's degree from the University of Iowa, majoring in analytic chemistry. Several years ago he returned to SUI on leave to serve for a year as head of the analytical chemistry department there, replacing Dr. Smith, who was serving at Oak Ridge, Tenn. There he completed his research for his doctor's degree. His late research has involved mainly polarography, one of the most recent devices used in studying analytical chemistry.

Lecturing is also an important part of the work of Prof. Swensen. Besides giving over two hundred lectures to local Kiwanis and Rotary groups, he has lectured three times at meetings at the University of Iowa, five times at Iowa State college and once many times at groups he has lectured to the annual meeting of the Iowa peace officers at Des Moines and written an article on anesthesia for the American Medical Journal as well as an article on intoxication and alcohol which was printed in England.

Prof. Swensen has been serving on the Committee of Tests for Intoxication under the National Safety council. His original research in this field has been done here in Waverly, in Kansas City, Mo., and in Chicago. His main concern has been with the correlation between the degree of intoxication and concentration of ethyl alcohol in the various body fluids.

In his capacity on this committee, Prof. Swensen has appeared on the witness stand in many county seats and has been instrumental in the winning of all those cases. He has done some analysis in toxicology (the study of poisons).

Besides holding membership in several high honorary fraternities, he is a member of the American Chemical Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

According to the professor, the greatest reward in teaching is "to be able to help mold the lives of individuals in such a manner that they may make a worthwhile contribution to society when they step into life's school."

There are two sons in the family of the chemistry professor. Bob was graduated from Wartburg several years ago and is now head of the science department in the high school at Plainview, Minn., having spent some time in graduate work. Dick, a future Knight, is now a senior in high school.

Knights Rush Quakers 13-0

By Adam Meldinger

(By Special Wire to Trumpet)

In a game that was played during a continual rain and snowfall, the Wartburg Knights rushed to a 13 to 0 victory over the Penn Quakers before a handful of spectators at Oskaloosa last night.

Wartburg scored midway in the first quarter when the Knights moved from the Penn 47-yard line on three first downs. Don Fallon, Bill Hughes and Lynn Brown did the carrying honors for the Knights, with Fallon driving over from the 6-inch line.

Block Boots Deflect.

Walt Block's boot floated over the crossbars after it had been deflected from a Penn defensive man.

Wartburg scored again just as the third quarter was about to end. Brown and Hughes alternated from the Penn 37, with Hughes finally going over from the 4-yard line. Block's attempt to pick the extra point failed.

Penn Fails To Gain.

Penn failed to gain much-needed ground and was forced to punt frequently. Wartburg had several other scoring opportunities but failed to pass in because of fumbles and a wet field.

Heavy drizzle during the first quarter changed into wet snow and continued to fall throughout the rest of the game.

Peacocks Trounce Wartburgers To Gain Second Straight Title

By Adam Meldinger

Upper Iowa university Peacocks trounced the Wartburg Knights 19-0 here Tuesday afternoon to gain their second straight Iowa conference championship. The Peacocks' lateral and pass plays accounted for all three touchdowns, and their forward wall stood firm to prevent the Knights from picking up yardage.

The victory enabled the Peacocks to keep their undefeated season intact at seven games and to extend their victory string to 12 over the two-year span.

Machine Cold.

The Wartburg machine that had been almost unstoppable against Luther was as cold as the weather in which the game was played. The Knights could gain only 75 yards by rushing and 22 by passing. Wartburg failed to gain a single first down in the first half. The Knights could get down no farther than the 13-yard line. Most of the game was played at mid-field or in Wartburg territory.

Chilled fans appeared to be in for quite a battle when the two teams fought at even terms through the first quarter. Upper Iowa began to roll in the second quarter. Peacocks moved to the Wartburg 10, where they were stopped when the Knight line held especially well. Wartburg took over on downs on the three. Elgin Allen fumbled on the six and the Peacocks recovered.

Wartburg line held again for three plays. A penalty moved the proud birds back to the seven. Dave Kelly then lateralled to Dean Selken, who, after it appeared he had been stopped, drove through three Wartburg tacklers to score. Dean Corson failed to boot the extra point.

Kelly Intercepts.

Minutes later, Kelly intercepted a Don Fallon pass and ran it back 25 yards to the Wartburg 30. A 32-yard pass, Cal Harms to Bobby Hall, netted the second touchdown. Corson again failed to convert.

Upper Iowa scored its final touchdown early in the fourth quarter. A lateral play, Kelly to Selken to Dave Greco, put the ball on the Wartburg eight. Fallon threw Kelly back for a six-yard loss. A Kelly to Hall pass moved the Peacocks to the five. A penalty for too much time out moved them back to the 10.

A double lateral play, with Greco winding up with the ball, accounted for Upper Iowa's final tally. Corson converted to end the scoring.

In the third quarter came one of Wartburg's few threats, when Walt Block recovered a Peacock fumble on the Wartburg 27. Dick Nutter, Bill Hughes and Fallon moved the ball to the 13, but Upper Iowa took over on downs.

In the closing minutes, the Knights staged a long drive, with Neil Sautter doing most of the ball carrying, to roll up six straight first downs. However, they could get no farther than the 16, when the Upper Iowa first string returned to the lineup to throw the Knights back to the 29. Ralph Bartlett then intercepted a Wartburg pass at the 15 and the Peacocks froze the ball for the remaining seconds of the game.

Looking 'Em Over

The Knights fell. The Peacocks did not deserve to win by a 19-0 margin. Wartburg fans knew that this was not the same smooth machine that defeated Luther in the Homecoming game. Upper Iowa earned and should have scored only one touchdown.

The line played a magnificent game, making three superb goal-line stands in the first half. Upper Iowa getting two gift touchdowns because of a weak pass defense.

With this game, and yesterday's encounter with Penn, five Knights carried the Orange and Black colors into battle for the last time. Let the trumpets sound loudly from the ramparts in salute to these men, Bill Hughes, Don Fallon, Elgin Allen, Ludy Lechner and Robert Wagner. Because of their brilliant play, fine sportsmanship, these men will long be remembered in the Wartburg hall of famous players.

Your columnists feel that Coach Nelson and Assistant Bundgaard have done an excellent job, bringing about a game to game improvement of the Knights. Your columnists feel that with the continued support of the student body and alumni this improvement will continue next year.

Hats off to the entire football squad, which has spent many hours each day in long practice sessions to provide the 1947 edition of the Knights.

Around The Conference

The football season is over, and by virtue of their victory over the Knights, the Upper Iowa Peacocks are the 1947 champions of the Iowa conference. Because of their perfect season, the blue and white of Fayette are mentioned as possible participants in a post-season bowl game. If they receive this bid, they will be carrying the honor of the Iowa conference, and we wish them well.

Parsons got out of the loop cellar over the week-end of Nov. 8 by defeating the hapless Penn Quakers 35-0. Luther's Norsemen, who were defeated by the Knights in the Homecoming game, played a 0-0 tie with Simpson, who defeated the Nelson-men 20-0 several weeks ago. In a game with an Army National Guard team, Central's Dutchmen emerged victorious to the tune of 20-0.

Predictions

With the ending of the football season, Wartburg's Knights exchange the armor of the gridiron for that of the hardwood courts. Basketball practice has been in progress on a limited scale for the past two weeks. It will go into full swing when joined this week by the hoopsters who have been on the football team.

Many of last year's lettermen have returned to form the nucleus of the squad. With these and a number of promising newcomers, a successful basketball season may be predicted.

Liemohn Choir Mass Newly Published

Last four movements of the Concert Mass for eight-part a cappella choir, composed by Dr. Edwin Liemohn, head of the music department, and director of the Wartburg choir, has just been published by the Gamble Hinged Music company of Chicago.

First movement to be published, the "Gloria in Excelsis," was released in 1945.

Remaining three movements, the "Kyrie," "Sanctus" and "Angus Dei," were completed during Dr. Liemohn's study in New York three years ago. They have been released as the firm's publication schedule has permitted.

Entire Mass was used on the Wartburg choir concert program during its tour in 1946. Two movements, the "Sanctus" and "Agnus Dei" will be repeated on this year's program.

Prize Balloon Comes From Kansas State

Ownership of a balloon that traveled 350 miles to Manhattan, Kan., brought first prize in the balloon race to Doris Hagen, junior. It was found by Robert Repp atop a hill in Pottawatomie county.

First to return his balloon to the public relations office was William Domres, freshman, second award winner. His balloon was found at Missouri Valley, 250 miles from here, lying in the timber not far from the home of Franklin Peterson.

Third award went to an alumna, Dorothy Winters. Her balloon was found by F. C. Eslick in a field northeast of Dayton.

Eunice Kunz, junior, received fourth award. Her balloon was found 7.5 miles south of Ft. Dodge by Mrs. George W. Schultz.

Dr. Wagner At FTA

Highlight of the next meeting of the Future Teachers to be held Tuesday, Nov. 18, in Convocation hall, will be a talk by Dr. Guy Wagner, professor of education at Iowa State Teachers college. Wagner will speak on "Professional Relationships in the Field of Teaching."

Other program features will be a piano solo by Margaret Fritschel, senior, and a vocal solo by Orville Obermeyer, sophomore.

Hot Coals

From The Ash Can

Hot coals seem to be much more welcome among Wartburg couples with the coming of colder weather, or maybe the twosomes realize that "if winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

At the top of the list is Bobbie Becker, that Homecoming queen, who is proving attractive to Wally Breidenbach even after the wilting of the flowered crown. It is rumored that Wally likes her study habits in the library, or have his interests suddenly turned to studying?

Now that freshman initiation is a thing of the past, there is a new bit of competition in the field. The old high school romance between Marion Buhr and Jimmy Huebner has again blossomed, and at a time when most blossoms are being frozen. Now that initiation is over, Merlin Nomann can formally introduce "Sunny" Schuchmann as "my rival." The only information on the third party is that she is the cousin of Robert Floy and her first name is Ruth.

"Papa Is All," according to Patterson Greene, author of the play. Rumors have it that the assistant director has great faith in that statement, believing also that "Papa" has everything. (According to an early announcement by the dramatics head, Bob Gronlund is to take the part of Papa, and he is to be directed—along with the rest of the cast—by Edie Baehr, assistant director.)

Bill Fraelrecht has found a singer to escort because he is told that he plays well. He hasn't told Judy Vorel, though, that he plays basketball and not a piano.

What is this we hear about Herman Diers' seeing a lot of a certain fellow LSA officer? And we don't mean a "fellow," do we, Phyl Vanell?

Etching To Cover Announcement Page

An etching of one of the front entrances to Luther hall will cover one page of the graduation announcements, as the result of a decision reached by the senior class at a meeting Tuesday in Luther hall.

After looking at several other rings, seniors voted to use the ring design of last year's class.

Cost to the senior class for the etching will be $42. Fearing not enough money would remain for a project, many did not support the idea until several $5 and $10 pledges were made.

Two Students Marry

Recent marriages of students on the Wartburg campus include that of Miss Mary Kay Mooney, Waverly, to William Hansen, Clear Lake, on Nov. 7. Hansen is a junior here.

Another fall wedding was that of Miss Pauline Engelke, Hawkeye, and Fred Boettcher, Hawkeye. Mr. Boettcher, a pre-theologian, is a sophomore here.

Poetry Enthusiasts Invited To Meeting

All students interested in poetry, especially those who write it, are invited by Dean and Mrs. G. J. Neumann to attend the first meeting of the Poetry club. It will be held at their home, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 16. The meeting will continue until 10 p.m.

Students who have written some poetry are asked to bring it along so that it may be read and discussed.

Thus far, the Poetry club here on the campus has had no connections with the Iowa Poetry society, but according to Dean Neumann, Alpha chapter may be established here later to stimulate more creative writing of poetry.

Dean Neumann was elected president of the Iowa Poetry society last spring to serve a three-year term.

McRoberts Parents

Mr. and Mrs. James McRoberts, Waverly, announce the birth of a son, David Paul, Nov. 10. McRoberts is a junior at Wartburg.

CHRISTMAS CARDS—The junior class will sell Christmas cards again this year. Notices of how, when and where will be posted as soon as the cards arrive. Help the junior class sponsor the junior-senior banquet by buying cards from them. (Paid advertisement)

Vacation Announced

Thanksgiving vacation, beginning at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 26, will continue through to 7:30 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 1, as announced by Dr. G. J. Neumann, dean of the college.

Calendar given in the college catalog, as pointed out by Dean Neumann, is following last year's class schedule and not the present schedule.

College Gift To Be Christmas Concert

Wartburg college's gift to the community of Waverly this year will be in the form of a Christmas concert, according to Prof. A. W. Swensen, general manager of the event.

Under the sponsorship of the college concerts committee, this program will be presented Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium. It will include musical numbers by vocal and instrumental groups, including the Wartburg choir and the chapel choir.

President C. H. Becker will be on the program as the main speaker. Audience participation will be introduced.

"Presentation of this concert is the beginning of what the concerts committee hopes will become a tradition," commented Prof. Swensen.
